

FATBOY LURES Devil 6" Lumo

The FatBoy Lures Devil is a slant-face, short plunger-style design with a gentle angle and moderate taper, which gives a consistent and reliable action that works well across all sea conditions. A very stable and easy to use slant design that pumps out a strong bubble trail. The Devil is keel-weighted (both sizes) for perfect balance and true running performance. Versatile enough to be used from any position in the spread, though we recommend the short and long rigger, or shotgun, as the best positions to try it.
